Sheppard Mullin's Labor and Employment practice group has been voted among the Top 3 Labor and Employment firms in California in The Recorder's "Best of 2022" issue. This is the first year the publication has included a labor and employment firm category, and Sheppard Mullin ranked #2 on the list.

For 16 years, The Recorder has published its annual "Best Of" feature to recognize law-related businesses that stand out amongst the competition for their exceptional service and expertise. Honorees are selected based on the results of The Recorder readers' poll, wherein California readers vote on the top providers in each category that have demonstrated outstanding client service and leadership in their respective fields.
