Adam Streisand was recognized in the Los Angeles Business Journal's 2023 “Who’s Who In Law” list. This special report profiles a select group of leaders in the Los Angeles legal industry, and those recognized are selected based on research conducted by the L.A. Business Journal rather than individual nominations.

The L.A. Business Journal highlighted that Streisand has represented many big-name clients throughout his career – and that Britney Spears famously wished to have him represent her in her original conservator case – as well as his landmark victories, including his win for Steve Ballmer to secure control of the Los Angeles Clippers, and his victory for the Bestie Boys and Capitol Records in the first digital-sampling case decided by the U.S. Court of Appeal.
