

Ghosts in the Machine: What New York Employers Need To Know Before Conducting Technology-Assisted Hiring

New York Law Journal
12.13.2022

In an article for the New York Law Journal, Sheppard Mullin labor and employment attorneys Christopher Collins and Lindsay Stone offer a summary of regulatory efforts regarding AI technology in employment, and suggests best practices for New York employers who use, or are considering using, AI in employment— especially in making hiring decisions.

Read the entire article here (subscription required)

Attorneys

Christopher J. Collins

Lindsay C. Stone

Practice Areas

Employee Hiring/Discipline/Termination

Labor and Employment

Labor and Employment Counseling

Industries

Artificial Intelligence