

Energy

Our energy group is known for its leadership in the areas of utilities, oil and gas, and renewable energy. We focus on substantial projects throughout the United States and beyond, representing municipal utilities and electric cooperatives, refineries and pipelines, independent power producers and renewable energy developers. Our counsel embraces the complexities of the energy industry for a diverse group of clients bolstered by a deep understanding of finance and regulatory concerns.

UTILITIES

Stinson energy attorneys adeptly navigate the complex regulatory licensing and compliance requirements for public power utilities and electric cooperatives. We work with major players throughout the United States, on projects including finance, development and investigatory issues including litigation. Learn More.

RENEWABLE ENERGY

Our in-depth knowledge of renewable energy resources, transactions and the ever-evolving legal and regulatory issues, involves every segment of renewables—wind, solar, biomass, biofuels and hydroelectric. Learn More.

OIL & GAS

With more than 30 years' experience, our solution-oriented attorneys focus on all aspects of the oil and gas industry. We negotiate financial transactions, structure complex projects and address thorny legal and regulatory concerns to help clients deal with volatile prices while improving site performance and reducing their environmental footprint.
