Office: Wichita

Alexa combines sharp analytical skills with a collaborative and client-focused approach to her litigation practice. Known for her clear communication, attention to detail, and ability to break down complex issues, she works diligently to provide practical solutions tailored to each client's needs.

She brings valuable judicial clerkship experience, having clerked for the U.S. District Court for the District of Kansas, where she researched and drafted orders and bench memoranda, assisted in courtroom proceedings, and communicated with counsel on case management and procedural issues. Alexa also served as a judicial intern for the Norfolk Circuit Court, where she further developed her advocacy and research skills. These experiences gave her meaningful insight into the judicial process and sharpened the skills she now applies in her litigation practice.
