SENIOR COUNSEL

jere.sellers@stinson.com

Direct: 816.691.3190

Office: Kansas City

Jere has tried more than 260 cases and knows how to guide his clients through the court system. He helps his clients understand their rights and helps negotiate resolutions prior to a lawsuit being filed.

Jere handles a variety of business litigation matters and understands how courts are likely to view a client's position. He assists clients through disputes involving enforcement of consumer and business lending, commercial contracts, sale of real estate, lease interpretation, end of lease questions, operating expense issues, construction delays, confidentiality provisions, non-compete clauses, toxic tort, and commercial real estate.

He negotiates business and construction contracts, workouts on real estate and commercial loans and defense of lender liability actions, as well as contract and lease negotiations. Jere also draws on his experience as a chemical engineer, working as a project manager for an engineering and environmental consulting firm for eight years, representing clients both nationally and internationally. In his work as an engineer, he analyzed numerous Fortune 500 companies' products, as well as the production and manufacturing facilities, and made recommendations for improving and modifying their operations.

A frequent speaker, Jere has given presentations at more than 35 conferences and seminars throughout his career.
