Direct: 612.335.1728

Office: Minneapolis

Kadee is dedicated to solving legal challenges in the areas of ERISA and medical, disability and life benefits litigation, insurance litigation, and business and commercial litigation.

Kadee defends insurers, third-party administrators and sponsors of employee welfare benefit plans in ERISA litigation in federal courts across the country. She has defended claims related to medical, disability and life benefits. Kadee has successfully defended clients in both ERISA denial of benefits claims and breach of fiduciary duty claims. She has also represented clients in claims under the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act.

Kadee has also successfully defended claims against Medicaid Managed Care Organizations and Medicare Part C Insurers.

Kadee has defended insurers against breach of contract, bad faith, vexatious refusal and other state law claims related to denial of insurance benefits under policies not governed by ERISA, such as policies purchased on the Health Insurance Marketplace, short-term medical and accident indemnity policies. She has also represented clients in matters dealing with stop-loss insurance coverage issues and both insurers and health care providers in disputes over payment of medical claims under direct provider agreements and provider network access agreements.
