Karen's comprehensive approach ensures her clients' transactions are efficiently handled with meticulous detail and strategic foresight.

Karen focuses her practice on real estate and tax credit financing. She assists equity investors, developers, lenders and community economic entities (CDE) in a wide array of real estate transactions involving federal, state and local tax credits and incentives, including new markets tax credits, historic rehabilitation tax credits and low-income housing tax credits. Karen also advises on real estate matters involving the acquisition, development and financing of commercial, senior housing, and multi-family residential properties.

Additionally, Karen has federal and state-level experience in corporate and partnership taxation matters, with a particular focus on compliance and financial reporting for public and private entities. She leverages her comprehensive and thorough knowledge of real estate finance and tax law to equip clients with insights needed to navigate complex and high-impact transactions and achieve the business and community impact goals of each project.
