OF COUNSEL

matthew.esposito@stinson.com

Direct: 949.225.3754

Office: Irvine

Matthew is one of Southern California's top litigation defense attorneys, having successfully first-chaired jury trials in both federal and state courts.

Matthew currently defends large financial institutions in a wide variety of business litigations. He has also led the firm's bank threat management practice, working with law enforcement to protect bank employees and their customers.

His practice has included a variety of employment-based claims, such as wrongful termination, discrimination and harassment.

Matthew has previously co-founded and served as general counsel for two entertainment based startup companies during which he structured and negotiated numerous deals with partners, vendors and eventual purchasers.
