Direct: 816.691.2603

Office: Kansas City

Traci focuses her practice on advising clients on the complexities of commercial real estate law, giving her insights into the legal and business impacts of real estate transactions.

Traci handles commercial real estate transactions, including acquisitions, dispositions, development, commercial leasing and due diligence.

She has significant experience negotiating on both sides of the table, structuring loans for lenders and borrowers to accommodate a variety of needs. Traci develops, drafts and negotiates loan documents, including transactions involving new construction and redevelopment. Local, regional and national clients depend on Traci's strategic counsel and hands-on approach to move their projects forward.

Traci also has experience in public finance and related matters. She has represented municipalities in Missouri, providing legal counsel on bonds and general municipal matters.
