He represented a physician medical director and "target" of a False Claims Act investigation, resulting in U.S. Attorney's Office closing its investigation against client.

Grant helps real estate clients protect their interests in purchase and sale agreements, commercial leases, and non-disclosure agreements.

During his years as a prosecuting attorney, Grant represented the State of Texas prosecuting numerous financial and theft-related crimes. He aided in pre-indictment forensic investigations spanning multiple agencies to support development of the most comprehensive cases possible. This prosecutorial experience affords Grant the ability to counsel clients in navigating complex issues regarding white collar crimes and investigations.
