Data breaches are here to stay and the pertaining regulations are ever-evolving. How companies handle these breaches must constantly evolve as well. Join our panel of leading industry professionals as we engage in a simulation and in-depth discussion of techniques companies can employ to handle and ideally even prevent damaging data breaches.

Just like any real situation, you will be asked to help make decisions, give insight and respond quickly without always having all of the information at hand.

This will be a unique learning experience you will enjoy and remember. Join us and come ready with your questions.

Please register online by Tuesday, January 28.

Registration and networking breakfast: 8 - 8:30 a.m.

Program: 8:30 - 10 a.m.
