

How COVID-19 is Changing Technology

Webinar

02.09.2021 | 11:45 a.m. - 1 p.m.

The current status of the coronavirus pandemic is creating a fast-changing and fluid environment. These challenges, however, are being confronted with the use of novel technologies, which create opportunities and risks for businesses.

This webinar will explore the emerging technologies in response to the coronavirus, whether these new trends will remain after the pandemic passes, and the opportunities to grow and protect these new assets to capture the changing economy.

Please register online for this webinar.