

Understanding and Eliminating Bias in Financial Services Seminar

Seminar | In-House Counsel Financial Services Seminar

04.11.2023 | 11:45 - 1 p.m.

Financial services make up one of the economy's most important and influential sectors, serving as the key driver of the United States economy. Bias, both conscious and unconscious, have resulted in disparate outcomes for women and people of color.

Growing demands for corporate Economic Social and Governance (ESG) accountability coupled with increased regulations for financial inclusion has pushed the financial services industry to look for ways to understand and mitigate bias-related challenges. In this session, financial services lawyers will learn:

- The nature of bias and how it impacts decision-making
- Common biases that impact the financial services industry
- Tips and strategies to mitigate the effects of bias
