

Clary Redd Publishes 2020 Year in Review Article in Trusts & Estates Magazine

In the News

01.25.2021

Partner Clary Redd has published his annual “Year in Review” article in the January 2021 issue of Trusts and Estates magazine. In this year’s article, Clary zeroes in on several key developments from the last year that will likely leave a lasting impact on estate planning.

In particular, he details how certain tax laws may evolve following the recent national election and summarizes regulations and court cases on deductions for estates and trusts, defined value provisions, valuation of interests in closely-held entities and other important issues.

Read the full article, “2020 Leaves an Indelible Print on Estate Planning.”

Clary concentrates his practice in estate planning, estate and trust administration and estate and trust-related litigation. He has a preeminent, national reputation for developing and implementing unique solutions to complex problems, resolving intra-family disputes efficiently and sensitively and providing practical advice for current and future generations.

CONTACT

Charles A. Redd

RELATED CAPABILITIES

Tax, Trusts & Estates