

Aalok Sharma Selected to NAPABA 2021 Prospective Partners Program

Press Release

11.16.2021

Stinson LLP is pleased to announce that attorney Aalok Sharma was selected to the Prospective Partners Program by the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association (NAPABA). Sharma is among nine other senior associates and counsel who have been recognized for their leadership potential within their organizations.

"Aalok is leader among our firm's associates and has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to developing into a successful attorney," said Managing Partner Allison Murdock. "He is respected for his outstanding legal experience in a burgeoning legal area, his sincere commitment to client service, our firm and its diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives, and his community."

The NAPABA Prospective Partners Program brings a select group of senior associates together to encourage an increase in the number of Asian Pacific American partners at major law firms through introduction, mentorship and relationship building with senior in-house counsel members. Throughout the program, prospective partners will have the opportunity to build professional relationships with mentors through a handful of networking sessions, including an opportunity to introduce themselves and their practices through an introduction presentation at the 2021 NAPABA Convention in Washington, D.C., from December 9-10.

"I am honored to have the opportunity to network with and learn from the talented mentors throughout the program," Sharma said. "Learning how to develop critical skills like courage, self-motivation and perseverance will allow me to grow as an attorney and teach these skills to those that follow my path."

Sharma was also named to the 2022 Best Lawyers in America "Ones to Watch" list, was selected as a 2020 Fellow by the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity and was designated Chair of the American Bar Association's Sports Division in 2020.
