

Andrew Gillespie Joins Stinson in Denver

Press Release

08.17.2021

Stinson LLP is pleased to announce that Andrew Gillespie has joined the firm as of counsel in its Denver office. He complements the firm's established banking and financial services and real estate and public finance practices.

Andrew handles a wide variety of asset acquisitions, financings and dispositions for lenders, borrowers and sponsors.

Andrew counsels lenders and agent banks originating commercial loans across a wide range of industries. He actively advises his clients in credit originations including asset-backed term loans, real estate financings, construction loans, revolving lines of credit, and leveraged loans, as well as workouts and restructurings throughout the life cycle of each loan.

In addition to advising financial services clients and borrowers on corporate, real estate, venture capital and leveraged loan facilities, he regularly counsels private equity firms, privately held businesses and real estate investors on capital raises, joint ventures and real estate and private company acquisitions and dispositions.

Prior to becoming an attorney, Andrew worked in the fields of commercial real estate development, investment and finance, and leverages this extensive industry experience when advising and helping clients formulate practical business solutions.

Stinson is in the process of relocating its Denver offices to 1144 15th Street, which will bring its nearly 30 attorneys and staff into one space. The office is expected to open in late August.
