

Arbuckle Selected to Ingram's 20 in Their Twenties

Press Release

10.30.2025

Stinson attorney Andrew Arbuckle has been selected to Ingram's "20 in Their Twenties" class of 2025. This award recognizes the achievements and promise of Kansas City's young entrepreneurs and those who demonstrate entrepreneurial qualities in their professional roles.

Arbuckle's entrepreneurial mindset is rooted in early lessons from his grandfather's ranch in the Flint Hills of Kansas where he observed very resourceful, self-reliant people get things done despite challenges. He first applied that mindset early in his career during an unlikely in-house legal internship that pushed him to navigate steep learning curves and embrace uncertainty. Today, he applies that same approach at Stinson, helping clients navigate complex challenges and achieve strategic goals. His ability to combine insight, initiative and adaptability is a hallmark of his recognition by Ingram's.

Arbuckle focuses his practice on a variety of general corporate and transactional matters, including capital markets, securities, corporate governance, and mergers and acquisitions. He helps clients assess dynamics shaped by legal, economic and political factors in every matter, reducing risk and positioning them to seize opportunities to execute their business objectives.
