

Chatham Named to Arizona Capital Times' Power 50 List

Press Release

12.02.2025

Stinson LLP Partner Elizabeth Chatham has been named to Arizona Capital Times' inaugural "Power 50" list, which highlights the state's most influential leaders shaping Arizona's present and future. The list features individuals from government, business, higher education and community organizations who are recognized for their impact and leadership.

Chatham has been honored for her work as one of Arizona's premier immigration attorneys. She has dedicated her career to guiding companies, universities and individuals through complex U.S. immigration laws while protecting at-risk populations, assisting with visa applications, green card strategies, naturalization and compliance programs.

"Chatham's work bridges the gap between Arizona's government and its immigrant communities, and her legal expertise has made her an influential figure in Arizona's business and political communities," writes Arizona Capital Times.

Chatham's practice focuses on assisting companies and educational institutions in navigating U.S. immigration law and compliance. She provides tailored corporate immigration and compliance programs and works with clients to obtain temporary and permanent immigration options and also advises clients on individual consular processing and naturalization. Chatham was recognized by AZ Big Media as one of the "Most Influential Women in Arizona Business" in 2025.
