

Luke VanFleteren recognized as a “Young Professional in Professional Services” by Wichita Business Journal

Press Release
05.20.2025

Stinson LLP Partner Luke VanFleteren was recognized by Wichita Business Journal in a recent installment of their “Young Professional in Professional Services” series.

The series spotlights emerging leaders in Wichita and their impact in their professions and communities. VanFleteren is one of 25 professionals selected.

In the feature, VanFleteren describes his career journey, from serving as program director for a nonprofit organization to attending law school and becoming an attorney. He also shares insights into the ever-changing nature of employment law and the fulfillment he finds in helping clients navigate it.

“In my practice, I monitor legal developments and changes that impact employers,” he said. “Because the legal landscape surrounding employment issues is dynamic and often-shifting, it is very gratifying to assist clients with new and developing issues.”

VanFleteren focuses his practice on labor and employment law and business litigation. He represents clients in state and federal courts on employment matters including matters involving discrimination, whistleblower claims and employee restrictive covenants.
