

Managing Partner Allison Murdock Quoted on Women's Leadership in The American Lawyer

In the News

07.14.2021

Stinson Managing Partner Allison Murdock was recently quoted on women in leadership roles in The American Lawyer. Allison spoke about the value that women bring to firms, the importance of placing women in leadership roles and her leadership opportunities at the firm.

"I had an opportunity in 2003 to be on the firm's board of directors. When someone is viewed as a leader, there is opportunity to demonstrate leadership skills. Our focus is that we do have that voice at the table."

Allison serves as the managing partner of the firm with ultimate responsibility for all aspects of the firm's operations and performance including development and implementation of the firm's strategic initiatives. Her focus is on leading and growing a client-focused and community-engaged firm. In addition to serving as the firm's managing partner, Allison is a member of its executive committee and board of directors.

CONTACT

Allison M. Murdock