Minneapolis Partner Steve Quinlivan recently talked with Agenda regarding a joint lawsuit filed against the SEC seeking to invalidate the recent amendments to Rule 14a-8 which permits small shareholders to submit proposals to public companies for inclusion in proxy statements. The article details the updated rule and whether the SEC would take an unusual step to rescind the rule. Steve commented that he “can’t think of an example” when the SEC had done that in the past.

Steve practices primarily in the areas of mergers and acquisitions, REITs, sports law, securities and international transactions. He also has significant experience counseling boards of directors in corporate governance and liability-related issues. He is also a lead writer on Stinson’s Dodd-Frank blog.
