

Stinson Ranked Among Top Legal Advisers in S&P Global Bank M&A Rankings

Press Release

03.04.2025

Stinson LLP is recognized as a top legal counsel for banks and thrifts in the 2024 S&P Global Market Intelligence rankings for bank and thrift legal advisers.

Stinson is ranked No. 4 (tied) based on the number of bank branch deals and No. 6 based on the number of whole bank deals. The firm also landed on the asset management, investment banks, brokers and capital markets legal adviser rankings based on deal value and the number of deals.

For over a decade, Stinson has consistently ranked among the top 10 legal counsels for whole bank and bank branch transactions based on the number of completed deals. The firm is also regularly recognized as a top U.S. counsel for bank mergers and acquisitions, as well as bank branch sales. In recent years, the firm has represented both buyers and sellers in over 50 bank mergers and acquisitions.

Stinson's Banking & Financial Services Practice Division works with financial institutions of all sizes across the country, from small community banks to larger national banks, as well as industrial loan and thrift companies and government entities. The firm's Bank M&A and Capital Markets practice group, a subset of the Banking & Financial Services Practice Division, is devoted to serving financial institutions and acting as strategic partners through every phase of the business cycle.
