

Stinson Recognized for Practice Management Innovation in Missouri Lawyer's 2025 KC Legal Leaders List

Press Release
08.25.2025

Stinson LLP has been named to Missouri Lawyers Media's 2025 "KC Legal Leaders" list for its leadership in practice management innovation.

The annual recognition highlights Kansas City firms that are reshaping the legal industry through forward-thinking initiatives that strengthen client service, operational excellence and legal outcomes. Stinson earned recognition for its innovative practice management strategies, including the development of a proprietary data privacy tracker that helps clients navigate rapidly shifting regulatory requirements in real time.

Brendan McInerney, Stinson's director of strategy and innovation, told Missouri Lawyers Media, "We've had frank discussions about what the client landscape looks like and what our competitors may be offering, while serving as leaders and taking a measured approach to risk."

He added, "You can see it in our culture. We're embracing the evolution of technology and ensuring that we're staying at the forefront."

McInerney leads the firm's Legal Practice Management team, which collaborates with Stinson's attorneys to deliver legal services efficiently, within scope and on budget. The team, consisting of credentialed pricing professionals and certified legal project managers, use proprietary tools to provide matter oversight from planning through completion, helping clients gain transparency, predictability and measurable value.
