Stinson LLP Of Counsel Nanette Turner Kalcik is featured in a Wichita Business Journal article, "Wichita attorney Nanette Turner Kalcik moves on to different law firm." The article highlights Kalcik's decision to join the firm's Wichita office, emphasizing the firm's commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion and equitable access to growth opportunities.

"When given the opportunity to continue working with my clients and also work with Lynn Preheim and aviation clients — one of Wichita's key industries — I knew the time was right to take that next step in my career," Kalcik said.

Kalcik highlights the firm's reputation within the Wichita business community, especially among women who actively mentor. Being accessible as a mentor has always been a priority for her, and she emphasizes the firm's dedication to associate and career development.

"I love that Stinson has a formal mentoring program to help ensure our associates have equitable access to growth opportunities," Kalcik said. "Finally, Stinson provides a great deal of support to working parents and others in caregiver roles, enabling attorneys to be present both at work and at home."

Kalcik's practice embodies her passion for complex litigation across multiple industries. She has extensive experience handling a broad range of matters, including tort and personal injury actions, Title IX claims, medical malpractice, class action claims, employment disputes and a variety of commercial and civil litigation matters. Kalcik also is experienced in banking and financial regulations, and has a robust employment litigation practice.
