Allison is an associate in the Vorys Houston office and a member of the litigation group. She has experience in toxic tort, oil and gas, trade secret, and shareholder disputes, as well as in class action and multi-district litigation. Before joining Vorys, Allison worked at another Houston law firm, where she received awards given to lawyers and staff who dedicate 100 or more hours to pro bono clients. In addition, Allison was a judicial law clerk and previously an intern for the Honorable Jeffrey V. Brown of the Supreme Court of Texas.

Allison received her J.D. summa cum laude from St. Mary's University School of Law as valedictorian of the Class of 2017. She received many awards while finishing her J.D., including the American Law Institute Scholarship and Leadership Award, Women in Law Leadership Award, and the Oil, Gas and Energy Resources Law Section of the State Bar of Texas Scholarship. Allison graduated with her B.A. cum laude from St. Edward's University.
