

Events

Keeping Pace: Developments in the Regulation of SwimmingRelated Attorneys

John J. Kulewicz

Related ServicesCorporate and Business
Organizations

Litigation

4.1.2010

Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease LLP will be hosting a CLE program on April 1, 2010 entitled, Keeping Pace: Developments in the Regulation of Swimming, at The Ohio State University's Recreation and Physical Activity Center.

Registration

12:15 p.m. - 12:45 p.m.

Recruiting: Ethics and Professionalism*Bill Wadley, Head Swimming Coach, The Ohio State University*

A report on the recruiting process, NCAA rules and regulations, and what is perceived as ethical and unethical conduct by coaches

Title IX/Legal/NCAA Rules Issues

Julie D. Vannatta, Senior Assistant General Counsel for Athletics and Senior Associate Athletic Director for Legal; and Douglas Archie, Associate Athletic Director for Compliance and Camps, The Ohio State University

A briefing on the impact of Title IX, NCAA rules and other legal issues on collegiate swimming

Tort Issues in Swimming*Robert J. Krummen, Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease LLP*

Recent developments in tort law relating to swimming including issues related to team personnel and coaches, events and swim facilities

Contract Issues in Swimming*Bruce P. Paige, Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease LLP*

A description of certain contracts and legal documents that may be necessary or beneficial when forming, managing or operating a swim club

The Road to London 2012: An Olympic Swimmer's Outlook on Legal Issues along the Way*Eric Shanteau, 2008 United States Olympic Swim Team*

A presentation on how FINA (Fédération Internationale de Natation) rules and regulations affect the swimmer, including:

- Suits — Contracts and manufacturers
- Changes in technique — Strokes, kicks and turns
- Drug Testing — Procedure, substances and bans

This course is pending approval before the Supreme Court of Ohio Commission on Continuing Legal Education for 3.00 total CLE hours instruction.

To learn more or to register, please contact Kayla Allen at ksallen@vorys.com.