Vorys will host its sixth annual Economic Development Incentives Conference virtually from February 16-19. We will host multiple one-hour sessions daily with guest speakers from ten different states across the country. Topics will cover trends and best practices regarding economic development incentives, and continuing education credits will be available. The conference features panel discussions and guest speakers including economic development and incentives leaders from the public and private sectors. Each of these sessions is focused on trends and best practices regarding economic development incentives for developers, companies and community leaders.

The presenters from Vorys include Aaron Berke, Jill Tangeman, Chris Knezevic, Kim Herlihy, Jon Stock, Jacinto Núñez, and Sean Byrne. These professionals will co-present with economic development and incentives leaders from the public and private sectors. These presenters include Daniel Blank, Jean Carter Ryan, Luke Bosso, Missy Hughes, Matt Cybulski, James Owrey, Brent Vernon, Alex Frei, Michael Bernth, Rita Williams, Subash Alias, Chris Chung, Justin Heather and Tim Vanderhoof.
