WELD National January Emerging Professionals' Series – Special Webinar Event My First Series

1.25.2021

Vorys attorney Lauren Brown will host a webinar for Women for Economic and Leadership Development (WELD) where she will share how women can remove the self-imposed barriers that prevent pursuing goals and adopting new mindsets. WELD created the My First Series to support our emerging women leaders along their journeys so that they can continue to achieve their career aspirations. This webinar will discuss 'the firsts' that many emerging professionals may face as they move through their careers.
