SPEAKING ENGAGEMENT | 10.5.2022

Rob Phillips, the firm's chief marketing and business development officer, will serve as a panelist at the Ally Law America's Meeting on October 5 in Raleigh, North Carolina. He will participate in the panel "Making Positive Impacts: Building a Sustainable Law Firm," where representatives from firms that have engaged in being good corporate citizens will describe their efforts meet the present and future needs of their clients. Topics will include diversity and inclusion, health and wellness, access to justice, environmental stewardship and giving back as a community neighbor through pro bono programs.
