Interested in a career bridging science and law ... without having to go to law school?

Tom Thrash, patent agent in the Vorys Houston office, will host a webinar on November 20, 2023, providing a brief overview of intellectual property law and patents, with a focus on patent agent and scientific advisor (SAPA) careers. After a brief introduction to the patenting process, Tom will discuss the responsibilities of SAPAs within the patenting process. They will present paths to becoming a SAPA, including additional programming available through Vorys for those interested in SAPA careers.
