Matthew Albers, of counsel in the Vorys Cleveland office, was one of ten attorneys featured in the Crain's Cleveland Business "Who to Watch in Law" special section. The newspaper chose to profile attorneys "who are making their mark in Northeast Ohio's legal community and positioning themselves as leaders." The article highlighted Albers' work in health care and his passion for the practice of law, stating:

"Mr. Albers is a member of the Vorys Cleveland office and one of the driving forces behind the firm's growing health care practice. He counsels clients on the legal and regulatory issues facing the industry, with an emphasis on mergers and acquisitions.

"There just seems to be a huge amount of energy and inertia behind the health care industry that to me makes it interesting, and in Northeast Ohio especially," he said.
