

Landolfi Talks with WTVN's Joel Riley about Cybersecurity and Data Breach Issues

Related Attorneys

John L. Landolfi

Related Services

Data Strategy, Privacy and Security

Technology Transactions

NEWS | 1.28.2015

John Landolfi, a partner in the Vorys Columbus office and a member of the litigation group, talked with 610 WTVN's Joel Riley about the cybersecurity and privacy proposals that were announced by President Obama during his 2015 State of the Union address. Landolfi discussed the president's proposal to limit access to student's private information and about the changes that companies could see in regards to data breach notification.

To listen to the interview, click here.