

Publications

7th Annual Vorys Economic Development Incentives Conference Back in Person

Related Services

Real Estate

Tax and Economic Development
Incentives

AUTHORED ARTICLE | Spring 2022

This article originally appeared in the Spring 2022 edition of Development Incentives Quarterly.

Vorys was pleased to be able to hold its 7th Annual Vorys Economic Development Incentives Conference back in person this year! The event, held in February 2022, drew more than 200 guests from a broad range of businesses, developers and government entities and featured speakers from around the country.

The event included nine panels and breakout sessions with a number of high-profile speakers on topics including advice for prospects, lessons learned from the accounting trenches, TIF case studies, using incentives to support DEI, the Ohio Transformational Mixed-Use Program, using Federal American Rescue Plan funds, hot topics from state EDA leaders, and how Ohio is on a roll.

Evaluations of the event were once again positive, and we received a number of excellent topic suggestions for next year.

Slide decks from this year's sessions can be found on the 2022 VEDIC website. Next year's event will again be held in Columbus, Ohio on Friday, February 24, 2023. We look forward to seeing you there!