

Publications

Labor and Employment Alert: NLRB Proposes Rule Requiring Employers to Post Notice on Unionization

Related Attorneys

Nelson D. Cary

Related Services

Labor and Employment

Labor Relations

CLIENT ALERT | 12.23.2010

The National Labor Relations Board has proposed a rule that would require employers to post notices informing workers of their right to unionize. The NLRB rarely uses its rulemaking authority, and the proposed rule is the first time the NLRB has invoked that authority since 2004.

Click on the link below to download the Labor and Employment Alert which discusses this proposal.