Wage and Hour

With changing laws increasing liability for wage violations, paying employees properly is more important than it has ever been. Our experienced wage and hour lawyers stand ready to assist businesses with any wage-related issue.

Services include:

Litigation Defense

Attorneys in White and Williams's Wage and Hour group have achieved outstanding results defending businesses in a wide variety of industries against virtually every type of wage-related claim, including those asserted in class and/or collective actions.

Audit Defense

Our wage and hour attorneys have extensive experience defending wage and hour audits instituted by state and federal departments of labor. With encyclopedic knowledge of wage laws and significant experience with the agencies charged with enforcing them, our wage and hour lawyers are uniquely suited to assist clients through this often-unfamiliar process.

Risk Mitigation

Our wage and hour attorneys also have significant experience helping clients mitigate their wage-related risks. Such mitigation efforts include voluntary internal wage audits to assess the compliance of client wage practices and eliminate potential liability before it arises, as well as the implementation of arbitration programs with class action waivers, to minimize the risk of class-wide wage and hour lawsuits.

REPRESENTATIVE MATTERS

Defeated certification in putative class action alleging misclassification of Pennsylvania independent contractors

Prevailed on motion to compel individual arbitrations in case involving truck drivers, on the grounds that arbitration agreement and class action waiver were enforceable under the New Jersey Arbitration Act, even if the Federal Arbitration Act was found not to apply
