

Steps To Take to Prepare Your Workplace During COVID-19

PBI Webinar
3.20

The COVID-19 pandemic is real and it is time to confirm that your law firm is prepared.

Law firms are taking steps to address the many employment-related issues confronting employers during the COVID-19 outbreak. Planning for how your organization can continue to operate and comply with workplace rights and responsibilities is crucial to being able to effectively deal with this crisis. While the overall situation continues to evolve, there are requirements and recommendations to consider now, including:

- FMLA
- FLSA
- ADA
- Title VII
- Employer policies
- State and local laws
- Workers' compensation
