

Daniel Ferhat Receives Two Awards for Service to the Legal Community

7.8.21

Partner Daniel Ferhat was recently recognized by The Philadelphia Association of Defense Counsel (PADC) with the President's Award at PADC's Annual Meeting. This award was given in recognition of Dan's leadership as President of PADC over the past year. Recognized as the oldest continuously operating local defense organization in the United States, PADC is comprised of over 300 attorneys and acts as a voice for its members and the clients they serve on emerging issues of interest.

Dan also received the Exceptional Performance Award from the Defense Research Institute (DRI), which is the largest international membership organization of attorneys defending the interests of businesses and individuals in civil litigation. DRI's Exceptional Performance Award is given annually to an individual who has supported and improved the standards and education of the defense bar, and for having contributed to the improvement of the administration of justice in the public interest.

Dan, who practices in the firm's Healthcare and Litigation groups, is a trial lawyer defending hospitals, physicians, nurses and other healthcare practitioners against professional liability claims at the trial court and appellate court levels. He also defends corporations and other commercial enterprises against premises liability lawsuits.
