

Professional Licensing

Since professional licensing and registration standards vary considerably throughout the country and abroad, it is essential for all construction professionals to seek counsel on the requirements necessary to participate in particular projects.

Zetlin & De Chiara regularly advises on these issues—whether in the design professional's home jurisdiction, or in any jurisdiction where the design professional practices. This is especially important now, when most practices span multiple jurisdictions. It is vital that a comprehensive evaluation of licensing requirements be considered in formulating an adequate corporate strategy.

Equally important to the licensed design professional is proper representation in disciplinary proceedings commenced by licensing boards and public agencies. We have appeared on our clients' behalf in hearings before panels, boards, and agencies regarding suspension, revocation and other disciplinary measures all over the United States.

We also leverage our longstanding relationships with counsel throughout the world to better assist you with offshore compliance issues.

NEWS & EVENTS

News

Making Sure Good Deeds Go Unpunished
New York Real Estate Journal, 06.22.2021

Events

Patti Harris to Speak on Business Entities and Licensure at Context & Clarity LIVE
Online, 11.11.2021

Business Up Front: Contracts and Compliance
Virtual, 06.23.2021

State of Confusion: Laws and Regulations Impacting Multijurisdictional Practices
Center for Architecture, 08.20.2019

Publications

State Regulation of the Design Professional
ABA Forum on Construction Law | Design Professional's Guide to Construction Law, 04.28.2021

RELATED SERVICES

Business Advice

Corporate Law