

Patti Harris to Speak at the 2024 ASLA Conference on Landscape Architecture

10.06.2024

On Sunday, October 6th, Special Counsel Patti Harris will speak on a panel titled “Professional Practice: Project Delivery Structure, High-Value Contract Terms, and Negotiation Tactics,” at the ASLA 2024: InSight conference in Washington, D.C. The panel will discuss project delivery methods, contract provisions, and negotiation techniques that will empower professionals to protect their practices. During the deep dive, panelists will guide participants in practice negotiations.

The American Society of Landscape Architects (ASLA)'s mission is to advance landscape architecture through advocacy, communication, education, and fellowship. The ASLA Conference on Landscape Architecture is the largest annual gathering of landscape architecture and allied professionals. To learn more about ASLA, click here.
