

International Engineering Firm Business and Legal Counseling

Large multinational engineering firms often turn to us for business counseling. In this case, we provided legal advice in the corporate restructuring/ownership transition of the firm. Our initial advice focused on professional licensing compliance and general ownership transition issues. Once that phase was completed, we assisted the firm with an overall business strategy review and then helped to structure a corporate reorganization to more closely align business sectors with potential risk.

PRACTICE AREAS

Business Advice

Corporate Law