

Dispute Resolution and Contract Development for Billion Dollar Project in South Florida

We were retained by a development team to resolve issues in a billion-dollar project in South Florida. The project was complex and disputes were sabotaging the success of the project. After analyzing the existing contracts and circumstances, a strategy was developed to achieve the developer's objectives and avoid litigation. After developing the framework for a positive work environment and success on the project, the contracts for subsequent phases were drafted to incorporate terms to avoid misalignment of interests.
